HARVEST TIME

Summer is already coming to an end, the sun started setting a bit earlier and before long campfire amateurs will need to don a warm sweater or jacket. In the fields nature is as generous as ever, a sight pleasing to the onlooker and comforting to the farmer ahead of the long winter. But today, the fields and market stalls are overflowing. It is a time of abundance.

In Ogden and around we have many local producers offering freshly picked fruits and vegetables, quality meats, fresh eggs, organic produce baskets, etc. Whether it's Saturday morning at the Stanstead Farmers' Market or at the local producer's, the enjoyment of dealing directly with those who provide us with the fruit of their labour is matched only by the pleasure of meeting and getting to know these artisans of the earth who year after year share with us the best they have to offer.

Their mission is a noble one - to feed their fellow men through their hard work. It's as simple as that, but how honorable. Let's support them in their efforts. We will be the first to benefit from it. And let's get to know them better, we will not regret it.

Happy harvest time to all.
